State definition

Nature of state (general) Page 1, Untitled Preamble:...Bearing in mind the fact that the source of state power of the independent and sovereign Nepal lies in the people and the keen aspiration expressed by the Nepalese people through the peaceful People's Movement to establish that people are the sole source of sovereignty and state power,
...Realising the critical responsibility of the sovereign Nepalese people in strengthening the country's national integrity, indivisibility and national unity,

Page 3, 8: Nepal shall be a secular state.

State configuration Page 1, Untitled Preamble:...Pledging to fulfill the mandate given by the Nepalese people through the People's Movement to establish inclusive governance and sustainable peace, along with democracy, and restructuring of state, by framing a constitution through a Constituent Assembly pursuant to the roadmap of the Seven Political Parties and the 12-Point Understanding between the Seven Political Parties and the CPN (Maoist),
...In the Proclamation of the King on April 24, 2006 which reinstated the House of Representative by affirming that 'the source of State power of the Kingdom of Nepal is Nepalese people, and that sovereign state power of Nepal is inherent in the people of Nepal' and being "cognizant of the spirit of the ongoing People's Movement, and to resolve the ongoing violent conflict and other problems being faced by the country, according to the road map of the agitating Seven Party Alliance', the House of Representatives established through the force of People's Movement is acknowledged as being invested with sovereignty,
In order to take the responsibility to move towards abolition of the autocratic monarchy and towards establishment of full-fledged democracy by safeguarding the achievements of the 1990 People's Movement and institutionalizing the achievements of the present People's Movement, this House of Representatives hereby proclaims itself sovereign for exercising all rights until other constitutional arrangements are introduced, and since the state power will be exercised through this very House of Representatives, further proclaims:
