Page 12, Preamble, Article xiv

Inadequate land tenure policies that have tended towards nomadic communities relying on communal grazing rights.

Page 14, Section X, Article i

Establish a clear land-use plan strategically identifying and placing water points for livestock. This will assist in securing access to water for both farmers and grazers through promotion of shared management of the resource; mark livestock corridors and stock routes; identify areas under grazers and farmers ownership; create cattle resting areas and grazing reserves. A clear land-use plan decreases potential for conflicts by placing water points away from sensitive zones and enabling risk-free movement for grazers.

Page 14, Section X, Article ii

Page 15, Section XI, Article ii

Pastoralist/
nomadism
rights

Southern Kaduna is characterised by frequent clashes between farmers and grazers over grazing areas. Both farmers and grazers exacerbate the problem; grazers in protecting and defending their livestock and farmers in defending their crops. It is a problem compounded by the availability of small arms. Nomadic movements require cooperative arrangements with sedentary mainly farmer communities which in many cases does not happen. Risks of violent conflict increase during the dry season where lack of provision for pastoralist needs for pasture and water lead to invasions on farmland.

- iv. In the event of destruction of farmland, encourage herders to contact the owner of the farm, as previously done traditionally.
- v. Not to use insulting, hurtful or abusive words towards the farmer.
- vi. Seek amicable solutions, through dialogue, between farmers and grazers and refer unresolved cases to the traditional and religious leaders.
