Local agreement properties

Process type Formal structured process

Rationale This agreement is part of a wider 'People-to-People process' facilitated by the New Sudan Council of Churches (NSCC) that led to the signing of other accords prior to and after this agreement.

Is there a documented link to a national peace process? No

Link to national process: articulated rationale This agreement is not technically linked to the national process between the government in Khartoum and South Sudanese opposition forces, but it is part of a series of agreements resulting from the Wunlit peace conference that eventually helped to pave the way for a rapprochement between John Garang and Riek Machar's factions (e.g. see Machakos Protocol, 2002).

Ritual/prayer and process (including use of scripture)	Page 1, ... We have sealed this Covenant, with its included Resolutions, by the traditional sacrifice of a White Bull (Tu-Bor) and with Christian worship. Page 2, ... A Word of Promise: We will protect this peace against anyone from within our ranks or who would come against us from the outside attempting to destroy our unity and peace. For this peace we are willing to die so that our children may live in peace and enjoy this good land that God has given to us.
Grievance List	Page 1, Today, we declare an end to years of internal conflicts among our people, battles between different factions, and at least three different military forces and civil administrations. Our internal strife has made us vulnerable to conflicts with our neighbors on every side, and the Government of Sudan has armed various groups within our midst to stir up confusion and destruction. ... We have agreed to the following:- Peace An end to all conflicts among Lou Nuer Amnesty for offenses against persons and property prior to 1 November 1999 A call to all Lou people to return to home areas and embrace the peace
