Peace Agreement Access Tool PA-X https://pax.peaceagreements.org/

Country/

entity

Somalia

Region Africa (excl MENA)

Agreement

Declaration of National Commitment (Arta Declaration)

name

Date 5 May 2000

Agreement

Multiparty signed/agreed

status

Interim Yes arrangement

Agreement/ Intrastate/intrastate conflict (Somali Civil War (1991 -))

conflict level

Framework/substantive - partial Stage

Conflict

Government/territory

nature

Peace Somalia Peace Process

process

Parties The Transnational Government of Somalia

Third parties [Note: Several references to the international community]

Description Agreement outlines the responsibilities of the Transitional National Assembly, the election of the Chief Justice, the roles of the President and Prime Minister, particularly, the limitations of power of the President. It includes 17-points of binding principles. The Annexes include a ceasefire; a plan of reconstrution and recovery; and the foundations for representation of the Somali population in the TNA and the national dialogue.

Agreement document

SO_000505_Declaration of national commitment.pdf Download PDF

Women, girls and gender

Participation Participation→Effective participation

THE WAY FORWARD

It would be highly imprudent to be dogmatic on representation based on "clans." Flexibility, understanding, serious and hard compromises, and loyalty to nationhood, are of essence. Somalia, as a member of the international community, needs to imbibe democratic principles and practices governing representations.

Note this pertinent view from a Somali politician in the North in 1992: "The clan system is the mainspring of Somali culture and identify. It has been useful in its traditional, pastoral setting and even today it is an instrument of survival during times of deep trouble and provides a safety net for the poorest and most vulnerable. However, it has its negative dark side and is in a sense irreconcilable with modern, democratic state. Clan politicking is playing havoc with ----- security and stability at present."

• Representatives must be men and women of high integrity, moral character and devotion to community and public service, and whose national interest and loyalty transcends narrow self-interest.

Equality No specific mention.

Particular groups of

No specific mention.

groups of women

International No specific mention.

law

New No specific mention.

institutions

Violence

No specific mention.

against women

Transitional No specific mention.

justice

Institutional No specific mention.

reform

Development No specific mention.

Implementation	No specific mention.

Other No specific mention.