Description In 2002, a series of meetings were held in Pankar near lake Yirol by the New Sudan Council of Churches. The objective of the meeting was to identify the causes of conflict in the six counties and recommend practical measures to build and maintain peace. The violent conflict between sections and clans of the Dinka communities and with neighboring groups had become a cause for concern, generating a demand for swift and decisive action to restore security and peace. The meeting aimed to develop a shared analysis of the causes and aggravating factors of conflicts, identify opportunities for building peace, and agree on a program for follow-up action.

Page 21, 4. 'FOLLOW UP' RECOMMENDATIONS,

4.1 Recommendations of the consultative meeting on the follow up process,...

- Recommended that in the spirit of the meeting, the County Secretaries continue to keep in touch with one other on matters of mutual concern for stability in the area. Recommended that there must be peace building groups or committees formed in each county (using the Cueibet experience as an example), to deal with peace issues generally and to monitor the implementation of the resolutions. Recommended that County Secretaries make full use of existing (or new) committees for consultation with the elders, intellectuals, church leaders, women leaders etc., on building peace.

Implementation→Signing or witnessing agreement
